Newsletter New Year 2021

Namaste!

2020 was a unique year. It was challenging, full of uncertainty, and in many areas we had to learn to think in new ways. Much of this would not be possible without our team and our supporters. Therefore, we would like to dedicate this New Year's newsletter to the people around Roots for Life.

We wish you a wonderful new year, full of opportunities and joys! We are happy if you continue to accompany us.

Our Team

Rajkumar Rai

Rajkumar oversees both the agricultural agendas in the villages and the construction and administration in the cooperative.

Bibek Dhital

Women's cooperative in Chyangsar & Ghunsa

From 5 women in Chyangsar in 2015, the cooperative has grown to over 150 women by the end of 2020 as an example. We are proud of the women who can take more and more responsibility for the development of their villages.

Individual Scholarships

In the meantime, we care for more than 70 girls in Kathmandu, Pokhara, Chyangsar and Ghunsa. Some of them are in boarding schools, most of them live with their parents. They get individually what they need (school clothes, writing materials, backpack, shoes, medical care), if necessary the school fees and in hardship cases also food. In addition, there are some activities for all in the villages such as joint English lessons, local library with "leisure books" in English and Nepali.
